

2019 STUDY ON GOVERNING LAW & JURISDICTIONAL CHOICES IN CROSS-BORDER TRANSACTIONS

In 2015, the Singapore Academy of Law (SAL) commissioned an independent study to understand the adoption of Singapore law and attitudes towards choosing Singapore as a jurisdiction for dispute resolution in cross-border transactions.

In 2019, an enhanced study was commissioned by SAL to understand the changes in perception towards governing law and jurisdictional choices in cross-border transactions, as well as to cover a broader scope and wider reach. The survey polled 606 legal practitioners and in-house counsel who deal with cross-border transactions in Singapore and the region.

GOVERNING LAW PREFERENCES

Preference for Governing Law

Similar to the 2015 results, half of the respondents surveyed have a preferred choice for governing law. The other half adapt their choice on a contract by contract basis.

Most Frequently Used Governing Law

English law is the most frequently used governing law for cross-border transactions. Singapore law adoption is increasing.

Dispute Resolution Venue and Choice of Law

When Singapore is used as the venue for dispute resolution, it is more likely that Singapore law will be chosen as the governing law.

Established legal system and jurisprudence

Familiarity with the chosen governing law

The 2019 study has revealed opportunities for Singapore to advance its standing as a global legal jurisdiction with a well-regarded body of law.

SAL will take these findings into account to explore further opportunities for Singapore law to increase its preference internationally.

SAL's Promotion of Singapore Law Committee wishes to thank all respondents who participated in this study.
